12581. A large and substantial Arts and Crafts eight light antique bronze electrolier or chandelier with a triple centre cluster. Originally one of a set of five from The Knightsbridge Palace Hotel in London. Two are now sold. Shown with new light bulbs and although shades are possible it would originally have been without them. English, circa 1911.

Provenance: The Knightsbridge Palace Hotel, built in 1911, was remodelled in 1937 as The Normandie Hotel, when these 6 chandeliers were stored in the basement. The hotel has since then again been remodelled.

Attributed to W.A.S. Benson.
